“No matter how insulated we might be in office cubicles or urban streets, no matter how much time we spend outdoors, each and every one of us is tied to the earth by the food we eat. . . . Every time we buy food, we participate in environmental degradation or support practices that sustain God’s creation or, perhaps, we do some of each.”

Join The Genesis Center at our Creation Care Workshop led by Reverend Phyllis Zoon. Enjoy a simple, free lunch courtesy of the Hunger Program* as well as some amazing chocolate, and hear environmental stories about the ecosystems they come from.

The workshop will end with the Cosmic Walk, a meditative experience that will increase our awareness of the time/space of the universe and our unique place in it. Bring a candle if you can!

Please RSVP by March 25th
